

Dance & Company Performing Arts Studio - Studio Policies/Procedures: January-December 2025

Monthly Tuition - Tuition is based on a four-week-month. We do not prorate due to missed classes or studio closures (holidays, breaks, etc) but you do accrue make-up classes good for 30 days (see more below). We do not charge extra if there is a 5th "week" in any given month. The only time a proration occurs is your first month as a new member, if you begin mid-month.

Auto-Draft - We require every family to have a credit or debit card on file for auto-debit. Tuition will be processed on the 1st of every month with your primary card on file. If your card has declined, you will be notified immediately. If not remedied within 3 business days (1st offense), a $15 late fee will be incurred. If after the 1st offense, a $15 late fee will be incurred immediately after the decline.

Membership - The 2025 Membership Fees (assessed on 1/1/25) are $50/1 dancer. $40 each additional family member. Fees are prorated based on registration date (quarter system) if registering after January 1st. Paid Membership is not required to attend a class at the "drop-in" rate. If attending at the "drop-in" rate, space is not guaranteed and must be reserved in advance.

Private Lesson Rates - Start at $45/30 minutes for 1 dancer. Paid directly to Dance & Company. For additional information on privates & semi-privates please send email to inquiries@danceandcompany.net

Drops - We require 30 days' notice in writing to drop/cancel any class(s)/auto-debit, which must be emailed to Lisa@danceandcompany.net. No verbal cancellations. *Once tuition has stopped being paid, ALL make-up classes left on file are VOID.

Email Communication - Each family must have at least one primary email on file so that we can properly communicate with you. We do mass communications to our entire student base that often cover studio updates, safety procedures, special events, announcements, etc. We also publish quarterly newsletters and we highly encourage you to pay attention to these communications so that you do not miss important information for your dancer(s).

Absences & Make-ups - Dancers are able to participate in make-up classes that coincide with your age and skill level; classes must be made-up within 30 days of your missed class and scheduled in advance by emailing inquiries@danceandcompany.net. If you cancel day-of or no-show to a scheduled make-up, you forfeit that make-up. Make-up classes are void if tuition hasn't been paid. If you plan to take extended time off, we offer a 1-month courtesy hold for 50% of your tuition rate to hold your spot on the roster. Otherwise, you will be dropped from the class roster once a 30-day notice has been submitted in writing to inquiries@danceandcompany.net.

Annual Production - Our Annual Summer Production has associated registration and costume fees for participants. This info becomes available in fall/winter of 2024. Participation is not mandatory but highly encouraged for all dancers enrolled in classes. Dance is a performance art and this is an opportunity to showcase what you learn in class, perform on stage and experience a professional theatre.

Dance & Company reserves the right to cancel, combine or reschedule classes due to government mandates, weather, last minute teacher absence or for any other reason deemed necessary. Dance & Company reserves the right to host classes online via Zoom for the same reasons listed above.

Dress Code - All students must adhere to proper dress code and hair requirements: DRESS CODE

Potty Breaks - All parents/guardians of our younger dancers understand that: For those who need assistance in the restroom with clothing or otherwise, if a parent isn't present or easily accessible, Dance & Company staff will assist with potty breaks as needed. We will take the lead from your dancer(s) as to how much assistance is required.
